

I guess that it's come to this... The NAB wants to force us to listen to 20 minute commercial sets and bland top 40 programming. I have a better idea: try to compete fairly without government intervention. The threat to their bottom line XM and Sirius pose is what this is all about. They have done nothing wrong--except dare to compete with the NAB.

I am a paying XM subscriber--and I pay for a reason. XM offers me far more than my small town stations offer. Not everybody likes country and oldies, which is about all my local radio offers.

Thank you for your time.
